LWA Ltd Appoints New Director

Steve Collings has been promoted to the role of audit and technical director at Leavitt Walmsley Associates.

Steve joined LWA as a semi-senior accountant in May 2000 where he trained and qualified. He was later appointed audit and technical manager where he helped strengthen the firm's technical compliance procedures. His new role involves overseeing and implementing the firm's technical processes and reporting as the firm's senior statutory auditor for its audit clients. It will also involve working with the managing partner to drive the practice forward and managing the practice trainees to help them achieve their ACCA qualification.

Les Leavitt FCCA, managing partner of LWA said "I am delighted to welcome Steve as my co-director. Steve's dedication and technical knowledge will help the practice continue to deliver the high standards of service and technical knowledge we pride ourselves on."
